CHINESE NAVY IS TO CONTINUE WITH MINING OPERATION

Confident It Can Keep Shipping Out of Shanghai Despite Losses

PLANS FOR SHIPS

Destroyers Off Yangtze Mouth, Smaller Boats Will Patrol

Nationalist China's naval blockade activities and future plans to stave off communist Chinese invasion of Formosa from the mainland are described in the following article. It is the fourth article in a series of five on "Chiang's Last Stand."

"CHIANG'S LAST STAND"

CHAPTER FOUR

By Howard Handelman

Far Eastern Director, INS

KAOSHUNG, Formosa, June 15—(INS)—The Chinese navy is confident it can keep shipping out of Shanghai even though it has lost its main blockade bases in the Chuan Islands.

The navy will continue to keep its biggest ships—destroyers and destroyer escorts—off the mouth of the Yangtze and will increase mining operations to offset any loss of effectiveness that may result from the evacuation of the Chusans.

Smaller vessels, such as gunboats, will continue patrols to keep shipping out of Amoy, Foochow and other ports south of Shanghai so that the communists will not be able to break through the blockade which has hurt them so much during the past year.

Rear Admiral John Ma, Chief of Staff of the Navy, explained:

"Loss of the bases in the Chusans means we will have to send our ships longer distances to close Shanghai to shipping, but that should not reduce our effectiveness.

"Our orders are to keep the Yangtze closed. We will do everything possible to comply. It is quite likely we will increase our mining operations."

Ma said the main job of the navy right now is to keep the mainland ports closed, protect troops on Quemoy and the few other islands where Nationalist garrisons still remain, patrol the Formosan straits, train commando units for hit-and-run raids on the mainland and develop tactics to meet the anticipated communist attack by several thousand troops.

"The Communists," Ma said, "can get together a few thousand troops easily.

"I disagree with those who say the communists don't have the necessary equipment and shipping to try to invade Formosa. They have merchantmen, motor boats and also have put motors in many junks.

"They could use these junks in place of regular amphibious assault craft.

"Right now our naval headquarters is studying new tactics to fight great masses of junks. We will have to develop new tactics if we are to have success in combatting several thousand of them.

"Each junk can carry about 40 soldiers. With motors, the junks could cross the Straits in seven to 10 hours at the narrowest point. That is the 80 mile stretch between Foochow and Tamsui, on our northern beach."

The navy is concerned, too, about possible Russian aid to the communist navy.

Ma said submarines have been sighted, but not identified, off the east coast of Formosa twice. There

WORK, ADDITIONAL SCHOOLING, INDECISION EVENLY DIVIDED AMONG 71 OF BENSALEM'S CLASS OF 1950; SEVERAL TO TEACH AND NURSE

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, June 15 —Work, more school, and the problem of deciding futures face the 71 graduates of Bensalem Township High School who received their diplomas Tuesday evening.

The three topics are fairly evenly divided among the graduates—24 have their occupations selected, school plans have been made by 21, and the rest are undecided.

Most of the ones heading for school are graduates of the academic course, and teaching and nursing seem to be the two most talked about goals. Joan Dettmer wants to be a physical education instructor and will attend East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Wayne Engle is going up to a state teachers college at Danbury, Conn., where he plans to major in English.

Elementary education will be DeLores Hopely's course at West Chester State Teachers College next fall, and Antoinette Russell is also planning to be at the same school. Margaret Hamilton will be at Pennsylvania State College majoring in home economics.

Among the academic girls who have chosen nursing are M. Virginia Burkhalter and Amy Chiyeko Hara who will go in training at Episcopal Hospital; Margaret Cole, who will be at Frankford Hospital, and Elizabeth Uelin, at Hahnemann Hospital.

James VanSant has made plans to enter Bucknell University, while Clarence Schmidheiser will take up engineering at Cincinnati University, Cincinnati, O.

Two academics are planning to combine work and school as Raymond Dunkley plans to work during the day and study to be a mechanic at Spring Garden Institute, Philadelphia, during the evenings. Robert Geayer will take a job and then plans to go to a photographic school.

Bob Garrett plans to take up pharmacy at the Temple University School of Pharmacy in Philadelphia. Mary Getz, another academic, will attend the Philadelphia School of the Bible. Raymond Truehart hasn't picked out his school yet, but he plans to go to college this fall.

Several of the graduates of the general course have also made plans to enter schools. Robert Marshall intends to start at the Williamson School of Mechanical Trades, Philadelphia, while Emil Kotschneff hopes to combine working and school at Rider College, Trenton. Gale Reid plans on attending the Philadelphia Textile Institute, and David Fiori hopes to attend college, although he hasn't chosen his school as yet.

Definite occupational plans have been made by a number of other general graduates, such as Mary Ella Swan, who intends to become

ELKS PRESENT THREE FLAGS AS GIFTS TO SCOUTS

Flag Day Ceremony Held In Home of The Bristol Lodge

RAIN STOPS PARADE

Three Speakers Tell History of Flag and Its Meaning To The World

Two Scout troops and one Cub Pack were recipients of American flags at the Flag Day exercises conducted by the Bristol Lodge, No. 970, B. P. O. E. Elks last evening in the Elks home on Radcliffe street. Max Slepik, Philadelphia, was the speaker of the evening. Five Elks lodges participated in the celebration.

The Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion Cadets played a number of selections in front of the Elks home to start off the ceremonies. Due to the weather the parade scheduled was cancelled.

Percy G. Ford lead the group in singing "The Star-Spangled Banner" after which Horace P. Schmidt introduced Charles Omrod, exalted ruler of Bristol Lodge. Omrod said: "It is an honor to have Bristol Lodge be the hosts to the five lodges that are taking part in our Flag Day ceremonies. Today is the 173rd birthday of our flag and the purpose of these services is to honor our country's flag. The five lodges which will take part in honoring the flag are Trenton Lodge, No. 105, B. P. O. E., Camden Lodge, No. 293, B. P. O. E.; Burlington Lodge, No. 996, B. P. O. E.; Mt. Holly Lodge, No. 848, B. P. O. E., and Bristol Lodge, No. 970, B. P. O. E.

Mr. Omrod introduced the following officers of the lodges who took part in the ceremonies: John Palaschak, esteemed leading knight of Trenton Lodge; Arnold Wood, esteemed leading knight of Burlington Lodge; Gregory J. Doyle, exalted ruler of Burlington Lodge; Warren F. Leary, Sr., esteemed leading knight of Mt. Holly Lodge; and J. Wesley Bunting, chaplain of Bristol Lodge. The chaplain offered prayer.

Very impressive ceremonies were conducted to pay honor and tribute to the flag.

Horace P. Schmidt gave the history of the American flag. He said: "The evolution of the American flag is as interesting as the evolution of the American government. During the period of its growth and lack of finality it embraced parts of the banners of other countries, sometimes showing even shrubs and serpents, and being devoid of originality. The period of instability of the form and coloring of our flag ceased with the definite fixing of the government it represented.

"The pine tree flag was adopted for all colonial vessels in 1775 and this banner was carried by the Americans in the battle of Bunker Hill. The southern colonies from 1776 to 1777 used the snake flag. In the latter part of 1775 a committee was appointed by the continental Congress to consider the question of a single flag for the thirteen colonies. That committee recommended that the design should be thirteen alternate stripes of red and white in the upper corner of which would be an azure field bearing the red cross of St. George, and the white cross of St. Andrew. This flag was called the Congress Colors and the Grand Union Flag.

"There was much dissatisfaction with this flag because it bore as a part thereof, a design so distinctive

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan (Distributed by International News Service)

They just found a fellow in Virginia who is the father of 20 children and if he doesn't get the father of the year award in 1951 the committee needs a new ribbon on its adding machine.

And he's the kind of fellow would appreciate a trip to New York . . . married 21 years and hardly been out of the house.

And any man who can raise 20 children at today's prices either is getting crop support or he has discovered a new route to economics.

But Secretary Snyder says we're all doing well . . . if you aren't you just aren't reading the Government reports of prosperity.

Do you know that last year the American people had so much money in their savings accounts that most of them owed it to somebody?

And we can do better this year if we try.

SOME AUCTION

They called it an auction, but the word doesn't adequately describe what came to pass. Briefly,
the largest creditor of the Lustron
Corporation became its legal owner.

There is nothing so wrong in that except that the new owner of this bankrupt prefabricated housing builder happens to be the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.
The RFC is an agent of the American taxpayer and uses his money to make deals like this.

The Lustron deal goes back to 1947 when, under legislation which offered government aid to the housing industry the company was given several million dollars to build prefabricated metal homes on an assembly line basis. But the assembly line never did get into high speed production. The company issued one optimistic statement
after another saying production was just around the corner.

The RFC continued to bail Lustron out of one crisis after another. When the last crisis arrived, approximately $37,000,000
in public funds had been poured in. Lustron never paid a lick of principal or interest, and it made few houses.

RFC foreclosure was followed by auction of the company's liquid assets. From all indications the sale was handled badly. One prospective bidder claimed he never could find out what was being auctioned and what wasn't. There was only one official bidder — the RFC. It paid $6,000,000 for Lustron's assets (taking money out of one of our pockets and placing it in another to pay for it, presumably).

Searching questions are being asked in Congress relative to the Lustron fiasco, and well they should be. There is a heap of government money out in the field
that might come to the same grief
as the millions that were pumped into Lustron. If the RFC finds it necessary to pull out of other industries, it is to be hoped the end will not be auctions that terminate as badly for the principal creditor.

WE'RE STILL PRIMITIVE

The other day, preliminary to a baseball game in Trenton, N. J., a local strong man attempted to lift two elephants, weighing a combined 5,000 pounds. His goal was to beat the world's lifting record of 4,140 pounds, held by a Canadian.

The strong man has been with us always. Ever since Samson pulled down the walls of the temple to put the Philistines in their place, each succeeding generation has had men of great physical prowess. The modern Sandow held forth many years, and thousands of men attempted to follow his example. There still is glory to be won by a display of great physical prowess.

Although it has been alleged humanity has become weaker but wiser, physical strength continues to be on exhibition. The mythical Tarzan is still the idol of youngsters. Perhaps we are still primitive to a greater degree than modern society realizes.

Slim Down in Summertime

Summer is a good time to take off a little weight, says Screen Star Betty Underwood. To limber up, touch your toes; straighten up and repeat.

By HELEN FOLLETT

SUMMER time is reducing time. If you are a bit overweight make up your mind to slender-ize. It can be done, and easily, if you will obey a few simple rules.
Not so many parties in the silly season; you won't be tempted with those luscious little cakes at the tea party. Also, your appetite isn't as keen as it is in cold weather. You'll feel like eating fruits and green salads, and they won't put an ounce on your svelte frame.

One thing to keep in mind: as you reduce your figure and cut down on good chow, the tissues of your face may be inclined to go slack. That means that you must use a heavy cream every night,
spending at least five minutes
tapping it into the flesh. Massage is as necessary as the emollient,
because it stimulates the blood streams that bring nourishment to tissues, skin and underlying fibers.

Pots and Sweets

Three food elements put on the adipose cushions; they are fats, sweets and starches. You must cut down on cereals,

butter, cream, fat meats, pastries.
Instead of buttered bread, eat toasted rye. Take tea and coffee clear; sugar and cream are your arch enemies.

You can have lean meat, sea
food, poultry, eggs, vegetables, buttermilk, cream cheese, fruit and fruit juices. Once a day have a green salad. It provides bulk, won't add to the fat cells that are spoiling the youthful lines of your figure.

Bending exercises are of help.
Most women thicken at the midsection.

Hands over the head, up on the toes, down on the toes, touch the floor without bending your knees. This is an old one, but the very best for slimming the waistline, deleting hip width, normalizing the thighs. Extend the arms straight out from the shoulders, send them far to one side, then to the other, pivoting at the waistline. This exercise will strengthen and tighten muscles extending from the ribs to the hips. Strong muscles; no fat.

is no naval base in the area in which the subs were sighted, Ma said, but the subs surfaced on a well-traveled shipping lane.

There also have been two definite reports of Soviet naval aid to the Chinese reds, he said. The Russians, Ma said, gave the Chinese communists all the Japanese warships given to the Soviets after the end of the Pacific war. The ships were repaired by the Russians, Ma said, and delivered in good working order.

"The other report," Ma said, "was brought back by one of our junior officers who escaped from the communists. He said he saw two Russian submarines in Taingtao harbor. The Chinese communists were permitted to visit the submarines
but at the time he left, four months ago, no Chinese had received training aboard the subs."

The Nationalist navy has Japanese ships, too. When the Japanese navy was split up among the wartime allies, the Nationalists got six of the latest type Japanese destroyers.

But the destroyers were delivered without guns, and in need of essential repairs.

The six destroyers have been useless to the Nationalists who, unable to arm and repair the ships themselves, have been barred by various laws, international and domestic,
from getting them rehabilitated in Japan or anywhere else.

News of Schools in Area

George School

George School area, has been actively identified with international affairs, both through his personal interests and by working overseas for the U. S. government.

He said this week that he would be making a number of trips to Washington during the next few months to help establish a two-way transmission of information between the important international project and U. S. citizens.

Urging members of the graduating class to set high personal standards and live productively, unselfishly, Patrick Malin, director of the American Civil Liberties Union, laid down a pattern for adult conduct in his major address last Saturday at George School's 56th commencement exercises.

Principal Richard McFreely awarded diplomas to 121 seniors following Mr. Malin's address and thoughtful talk on the role of student government in George School life by Ernest P. Young, a leading member of the Class of 1950.

Set standards for yourself with discrimination and then live a life of quality, Mr. Malin told the assembled 1,000 at the services. He cautioned particularly to select job and wife (husband) with extreme care and then invest in those choices all possible imagination and hard work to make them successful.

Nancy G. Dwinell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dwinell of George School, was named twice among the ten sealers listed on the commencement program for earning outstanding scholarships. She won one of two Penn Valley Fund scholarships and a merit scholarship from Earlham College, in Indiana.

A buffet luncheon for the assembled students, teachers and guests concluded commencement ceremonies after the 121 seniors had marched out of the auditorium with diplomas in hand.

behind being tied for fifth with an average of 83.7.

Second highest in the school and leading his class is Robert Langdon of the 10th grade. He attained a general average of 90.5 and was highest in religion and English.

Next in order was William O'Brien with 89.7% and a 94 in geometry which places him first in that subject. Robert Bonnenberger follows with an 85.5 average and first place in biology and Latin; he also received 94% in sheet metal work.

Fourth place is occupied by John McGinn with 88.5. He is followed by Patrick Hollenbach with 85.7 and Robert Jackson with 85.2 and a tie for first in religion. Also worthy of mention are Paul Kane, with the highest mark for welding, and Charles Lebesco, with 98 and 94 in welding and sheet metal respectively.

In the ninth grade, first place is held by William Hogan, who also leads his class in religion, history and general science. Louis Baldwin is second with 85.7 and Victor Cook third with 85%. Fourth place is shared by Carl Even, who also has 95% in auto-mechanics, and Louis Lippolis, who leads the class in algebra. Other worthies in the ninth grade are Daniel Boniscavage, who leads his class in English, and Augustine Constantine, who heads the class in Latin and has 95 in auto-mechanics. Typing honors are shared by Augustine DeBello, Eugene Dougherty and Edward McBride.

Heading the seventh grade is Joseph Connor, who also has highest in his class in religion and is tied for first in English. He is followed by Michael McKeon, the other half of the English tie, and by Joseph Kraus, Francis Whitcomb, Robert Even and John McCabe, in that order. Here will be noticed the third of the Even clan among the leaders; this last one, Robert, also heads his class in arithmetic.

In the Vocational class first place is held by Paul Wyatt, who is also tied for first in welding shopwork. Next in order are David Rouse, Douglas Marrero, Joseph Luciano, Angelo Rosato, Edward McGarry and John Lawless.

St. Mary's Hall

BURLINGTON, N. J., June 15—It has been customary for many years for parents to enter their sons or daughters, immediately after their birth, for future enrollment with the school and college they wish each child to later attend, but St. Mary's Hall, Burlington, has introduced a new angle to this long established custom. At a recent meeting of the Trustees of that school, it was decided to make an unique and interesting offer to each graduate to whom daughters are born.

She will be presented at the time of their birth with a fifty dollar scholarship, redeemable when the child reaches the age at which she will be eligible for admission to the school. The offer is not limited to one daughter only, but to as many as may be born to a graduate. In order to secure the scholarship the mother must notify the school as soon as possible after the birth of the child, giving name, address and date of birth. A certificate will then be sent her, to hold until the daughter reaches school age.

Although St. Mary's closed on June 6, the business offices will remain open to carry on preparations for the next school term and to enroll new students. Mrs. Carl W. Turner, Field Secretary, is available for interviews with parents who have made inquiries about the school and will also call personally, if desired, upon any family having a daughter for whom they are contemplating changes.

St. Mary's advantages are well known, as its graduates may be found in all parts of the country as well as in other lands. It offers its pupils an excellent academic curriculum as well as a thorough training in Christian principles. Although the school is affiliated with the Protestant Episcopal Church, it admits students of all religious denominations, those who do not come from Episcopal families are permitted to attend their own churches.

St. Mary's has Upper, Middle and Lower Schools. Girls may enter in the first grade and graduate in the twelfth. In describing the requirements and advantages of the school, Miss Florence Lukens Newbold, the Headmistress, recently stated:

"Every application is considered carefully before the girl is accepted. Each applicant is required to present a transcript of her previous school record and a satisfactory statement from her former Principal, if she has been attending school. The Upper School offers two courses of study: the College Preparatory, leading to a diploma, and a General Course leading to a diploma or certificate. The difference in the two courses lies in the language requirements."

"The Middle school bridges the gap between the supervised work of the Lower school and the independent study of the Upper School. The objective of the Lower School is to establish a firm foundation in elementary education necessary for future academic work. Recently we have had proof that this objective is being reached, for at the Commencement Day ceremonies on June 6, all students winning awards and honors, with three exceptions, had started their school life at St. Mary's in the Lower School."

NAMED AS OFFICIALS FOR SCOUT JAMBOREE

Two Bucks County Council Scout Officials Are Honored

MAKING BIG PLANS

Two Bucks County Council scout officials have been named to key positions in the National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America, which will be held at Valley Forge Park from June 30 to July 6 when 47,000 scouts from all parts of America will set up a camp for a week.

William Porter, of Doylestown, district commissioner of the Lenape district, has been designated as an equipment officer in the southern section, which is section 29 of region III. Mr. Porter will aid in the organization of food and commissary supplies for feeding a large number of the scouts at the Jamboree. He will be connected directly with the section 29 staff and will have an opportunity to take part in the general Jamboree program.

Scout executive Raymond W. Hoxworth has been designated as sectional director of section 25 which will include troops from Bethlehem, Bloomsburg, Wilkes-Barre, Valley Forge Council, Pottsville, Lancaster, Hazleton, Reading, Washington, Pa., Scranton, Allentown and York. This is one of 34 sections of the country and will be composed of 36 troops with a total of 1,292 scouts and scouters. The section director will have a staff of 33 men and, in addition, a group of 108 scoutmasters and assistants in charge of this group. The 34 sectional directors will work with the national administration of the Jamboree.

The director of the sections will take up their duties on June 24.

The highlights of the Jamboree will be the opening ceremony at eight p. m. on Friday, June 30, at which time President Truman will officially open the event. The grand opening ceremony will be an arena display event called The Valley Forge Story. Saturday will feature a sectional campfire. Sunday, July 2, at eight p. m., will have a scout convocation with the theme Freedom of Worship. Sectional campfires will again be held on Monday, with the evening program featuring the theme Scouting Across America being the feature July 4, Tuesday.

Wednesday sectional campfire will be held with the closing ceremony being held on July 6 with the arena theme World Brotherhood and the Declaration of Purpose led by chief scout executive Arthur A. Schuck.

Throughout the days unit display activities, rehearsing for evening arena shows, band concerts, religious services on Sunday, Valley Forge foot tours, and a trip to Philadelphia for a visit to historic points will take place.

The Scouts from Bucks County Council will make the Philadelphia trip on Monday, July 3, and will not be in camp at the Jamboree until late in the afternoon.

The Bucks county troops composed of 76 scouts and scouters will leave by bus from Camp Ockanickon at 10.30 a. m. on the morning of Tuesday, June 27. The official uniform, which will be used at the Jamboree, will be worn by the scouts and leaders of the Bucks County Council when they leave for the Jamboree.

Parents and friends are invited to Camp Ockanickon to see the scouts leave for the Jamboree and are also invited to attend the Jamboree at any time. Parking spaces will be available for 3400 cars. Buses will be used to transport visitors around the Jamboree grounds.

GALS WRONG

NEW YORK (INS)—The chairman of the National Woman's party believes that most women are completely ignorant of the beating they're taking in this man's world. Seventy-four-year-old Dr. Agnes Wells, who heads the Woman's party, says that most women believe they have the world in their grasp, but they're just fooling themselves. Dr. Wells claims that the only good jobs women have are those no man wants. Also, any woman who has the ability and wants a job in a so-called "man's field" has to battle all the way.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO PA. FARMERS

By Al Spivak

INS Pennsylvania Farm Editor
HARRISBURG, June 15 — The Pennsylvania rural safety council hopes to achieve new farm safety records through direct education. Pennsylvania is one of 22 states with permanent farm safety committees, according to State Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst. He is chairman of Pennsylvania Farm Safety Week July 23-29, which the committees observe as part of their program.

In 1943, a year before National Farm Safety Week was conceived, a state rural safety council was organized. Its goal was to reduce accidents on farms and in farm homes. More than 100 fatalities a year occurred in the Commonwealth from such accidents, with an estimated eight to ten thousand accidents annually.

"In the seven years that the farm safety council has been operating in Pennsylvania I have every reason to believe that fewer accidents have occurred on Pennsylvania farms," Horst says.

"The committee's efforts have been directed toward education of farmers to take time to be safe in all farm operations," he adds. "The council repeatedly has urged farm owners to make needed repairs and to use care in handling of livestock and machinery."

Figures are unavailable, Horst says, but "we have reason to believe that this educational campaign is obtaining results."

relative of the testatrix if the need arises. To her own congregation, Miss Swope created a $4,000 endowment and in memory of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Swope, which shall provide an income for church maintenance.

River Crest Preventorium, of the Kensington Dispensary for Tuberculosis, located at Montclare, was given an endowment of $1,000, with the stipulation that a bed be endowed in the girls' dormitory in memory of her parents.

Doylestown Cemetery Company has bequeathed $200, and individual beneficiaries follow: Lenord R. Swope, Westwood, N. J., $2500; Ralph O. Swope, Westwood, N. J., $2500, and Ernest L. Schultz, who was her chauffeur and if in the employ of the testatrix at the time of her death, the car and $2,000.

Lenord and Ralph Swope were both bequeathed silverware. Mrs. Virginia Bachman, Annandale, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Lenord Swope and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Swope and Ida May Frick were bequeathed wearing apparel, jewelry, antiques, linens, furniture and other possessions.

Doylestown National Bank & Trust Company, Helen B. Seyfert, Bethlehem; Lenord R. and Anna O. Swope, Westwood, N. J., were named executors. The will was written in pen and ink and dated Nov. 14, 1947.

Daniel McDevitt, incised wound of head, requiring five stitches.

Details are also lacking on the accident which occurred at Street road and Bustleton Pike, and which is being investigated by state police of Langhorne barracks. Abington Hospital officials announce that the patients taken to the hospital are being examined or are under observation. X-rays are being taken of Emily McClemens, Feasterville; Robert McClemens, Feasterville; lacerations of the scalp; and injuries to Rosalie McCowie, Jamison, include abrasions of the right cheek, right side of forehead, left index finger and lower part of right leg.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL

Catching the second finger of his left hand in a crane cable at Silvi's Concrete Products plant, Tullytown, yesterday, Charles Lewis, Trenton, N. J., had the end of the finger amputated. He was treated at Harriman Hospital. Henry Gleason, Bristol Pike, Croydon, had five stitches taken there in a wound on the top of his head after he was hit by an iron bracket while at work. Sandra Farley, Main street, Croydon, fell, striking her forehead on a cement step. Stitches were taken in the wound at Harriman Hospital.

ELECTRIC LIVING is carefree, comfortable, efficient living. But to enjoy it fully you must have modern wiring. Only modern wiring can assure you that all the electric appliances you've added in the last few years—and the others you plan to add—will operate efficiently and economically.

First—you need sufficient wiring coming into your home. Second—you need enough circuits throughout the house. And Third—you'll want plenty of switches and outlets conveniently located in every room.

Call your nearest electrician, listed below, and ask for a free wiring survey. He'll check your entire electrical system and advise you of any needed changes. No obligation, of course. So call him today and be sure you're ready for complete electric living!

HILARIOUS FARCE TO BE AT THE PLAYHOUSE

Florence Reed To Be at New Hope in "The Royal Family"

OPENS ON JUNE 19TH

NEW HOPE, June 15 — The combination of a star like Florence Reed and a hilarious farce like "The Royal Family" makes next week's attraction at the Bucks County Playhouse here beginning Monday, June 19th truly a gala offering. Miss Reed gave the Playhouse one of its most stirring performances last year in Somerset Maugham's "The Circle". Two distinguished playwrights, Edna Ferber and Bucks County's own George S. Kaufman wrote "The Royal Family."

FLORENCE REED

The play lampoons a famous theatrical clan, which many persons have enjoyed identifying with the Barrymores. Florence Reed portrays proud Fanny Cavendish, to whom theatrical tradition is sacred. She was a star in her day, and in her opinion, it behooves her granddaughter to follow a stage career, even if to do so the young girl must renounce a romantic marriage.

Florence Reed is a perfect choice for the portrayal of this vivid and exciting character. She herself is the third generation of Reeds in show business.

Early in her career she was hailed for her performance in "The Shanghai Gesture," as well as for Lady Macbeth. Recently on Broadway she was co-starred with Judith Anderson in "Medea," played in "Rebecca," in "Romeo and Juliet" with Katharine Cornell; and in "The Skin of Our Teeth" John Barrymore and Sara Seegar are featured in the cast. Miss Seegar plays the second generation star and Mr. Barrymore, recently seen on Broadway in "The Enchanted," acts the spoiled darling of the Cavendish family. Much of the fun in the play centers around Miss Reed's efforts to curb the antic behavior of this harum-scarum son.

Others in the cast directed by David Alexander include Henry Jones, Harry McHaffey, James Doohan, Ruth White, Carl White, Virginia Low, Fred Bell, Robert Nutt and Mary Mears.

The setting is being designed by David Reppa.

Martha Scott in "Another Language" will continue through Saturday evening, June 17th, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

Little Feet Can Lead To Big Trouble

"Little feet can lead to big trouble!"

That was the warning issued today by Chief Linford J. Jones as balmy weather lured droves of Bristol's small fry onto streets and playgrounds.

"Sneer childish exuberance and thoughtlessness," he said, "make April, with its nice weather, a hazardous time for children, an anxious time for parents, and a responsible time for motorists."

Chief Jones explained that when Spring first invites children's outdoor activities four or five months of pent-up energy are unleashed suddenly and safety training learned in the Fall may have been largely forgotten.

"Motorists must realize that children are likely to be unpredictable and irresponsible," Chief Jones said. "Responsibility must, therefore, be assumed by motorists and parents."

The knowledge that he may not be legally responsible for an accident involving a child would be small consolation to any driver. The parent's remorse will always stem not from what he did, but from what he did not do. It is the parent's obligation to teach his child safe traffic habits, and the motorist's responsibility to give the child the benefit of his most careful driving.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. George E. Boswell
Rector

O God, our Father, who in the past hast led nations and individuals into right paths, help us never to doubt Thy willingness to direct and guide us in our daily lives. Help us to be willing to be led by Thee, so that we may rejoice to do Thy will, for the good of all mankind. This we ask in Christ's name. Amen.

OUR SCHOOL DISTRICTS TO OPERATE AS ONE

Agreement Has Been Signed
and Will Be Effective
July 1st

NAME A LIBRARIAN

PERKASIE, June 15—The school districts of Sellersville, Perkasio, Overdale and Dublin will begin joint operations beginning July 1, the start of the school fiscal year. Announcement of the signing of the four-part agreement was made here today. The plan does not conflict with the planned seven-district high school, it is stated, but was brought about to increase the interests of the districts involved. The districts to be included in the proposed high school have the option of combining their entire operations within the new high school, or may continue their elementary grades as individual districts. Mrs. Roberta Hubbert was elected substitute librarian at Sell-Perk high at a meeting of the board held last Monday evening. The board also approved the plan to resume the annual School Farm show.

TREE PLANTING

ATHENS, — (INS) — Funds provided through the Marshall Plan have enabled Greece to plant 45 million seedling trees in the last two years. Nearly 5,000 guerrilla-stricken refugees were seasonally employed in the nurseries and at tree planting, which cost 9,531,000,000 drachmas — equivalent to $635,400 at the present rate of exchange. The state nurseries produced 18,000,000 seedlings in 1948-49 and 27,000,000 in 1949-50.

Child Put "On Probation"

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

A GREAT many grade school children will be promoted this June on probation.

On the surface this plan seems to be good. It gives the child the benefit of doubtful judgment of the teacher in which grade he has been this spring and offers him a "second chance." His parents may be able to have him attend school or be tutored.

Might Be Ideal

If his parents, and if the teacher to whom he will be sent on trial next fall, were always wise the plan might approach the ideal. But the average child promoted on probation this June faces many psychological hazards. His parents may remind him often during the summer that he will be demoted next fall if "he doesn't work hard enough," especially at times when they are vexed at him about other matters. Then when he enters school next fall he may not be allowed at home to forget for a single day the sword of Damocles hanging over his head.

If after several weeks he must go back to the lower grade consider the ignominy. All the children of his class and all his playmates at home will know about it. But if he "makes it" and is allowed to go on, the temporary effect may be good.

All the Advantages

It has always seemed to me that all the advantages aimed at by the school through promotion on probation could be gained and the awful emotional hazards could be avoided if the child were promoted or not promoted in June, according to the best judgment of the teachers, without reservations. If she felt sure the child could profit from summer school or special tutoring she should so apprise his parents and try to prevail on them to provide such help for the child. She might also help the parents secure a competent tutor and confer with this tutor and the parents on specific ways in which the child could be helped. In some cases, this teacher might even advise the parents to seek the help of a psychologist or other expert to study this child and guide them in helping him. If, however, the teacher is sure she should promote a child on probation, she should sit down with the child's parents and entreat them never to bring the matter up as a threat to him or to worry him over it. Indeed, she might win the parents to find some help for the child during the summer.

PERKASIE JAYCEES SET CHARTER NIGHT

Theodore Roosevelt, 3d, To Address Group On June 28

DANCE WILL FOLLOW

PERKASIE, June 15.—Theodore Roosevelt, III, will be the principal speaker at the charter night program of the Perkasia Junior Chamber of Commerce scheduled for Wednesday evening, June 28. Roosevelt, secretary of commerce for the Commonwealth, was selected as one of the ten outstanding young men last year by the national Jaycees headquarters.

Various service clubs and borough dignitaries have been invited to attend the affair, which is to begin at seven p. m., in the Perkasia Legion home. Attorney James C. Bowen, a charter member of the new group, will serve as toastmaster. Dancing for two hours will follow the formal charter night ceremony.

President Richard Frick presided at the bi-monthly meeting last week at the American House which heard reports from Elwood Strohm of the program committee, and A. Mervin Stover, chairman of the youth welfare committee.

Keep Eyes Looking Their Best

To keep lines from forming around your eyes, apply an eye cream just before you go to bed each night.

By HELEN FOLLETT

EYES do not differ very much in size, as some of us may fancy. It is largely the shape of the face that makes them seem large or small. In a small, thin face the soul windows look unnaturally enlarged, while in a broad, fat face the eyes may seem to recede into the flesh. Deep-set eyes appear small, while protruding ones look large in proportion to the face.

Their beauty lies in coloring and expression. No matter what the color may be, they will have charm if they sparkle with good nature and animation. Of course, they must be in a healthy condition, and the surrounding tissues must be smooth, if they are to appear at their best. Many individuals abuse their eyes shamefully. When the eyes smart and burn, they are crying out for relief which often will be found in the wearing of glasses.

No Choice

Once the eye specialist says they are necessary, you have no choice, no matter how compelling your sense of vanity may be or how you rebel against putting panes on your soul windows. It may happen that specs will improve appearance; that has happened.

The short-sighted woman who drops her handbag, clutching the nearest support as she stumbles over a step, is not a charming picture. Nor is the far-sighted woman who holds the menu card at arm's length.

The eyes should be bathed twice a day, first with warm water, then with cold. To prevent lines forming around them the squinting habit should be avoided and an eye cream applied at bedtime. Anoint the finger, sending it around the eye, starting at the inner corner of the upper lid.

Keep the eyelashes lubricated. Mineral oil will serve this purpose. Take fastidious care of your eyebrows as they contribute to eye loveliness when they are beautifully arched. Follow the natural pattern. Mama Nature knows best no matter what you may think about it. Emaciated eyebrows are old stuff.

PARKING PROBLEMS PLAGUE SELLERSVILLE

Council Plans Ordinance To Ban Autos From Maple Avenue Area

LACK OF LIGHTS CITED

SELLERSVILLE, June 15—Parking problems occupied the time of Borough Council at a meeting held here last week.

The council finally authorized the borough solicitor to draft an ordinance which would prohibit parking on the south side of Maple avenue, between Main street and the playground, after several persons had pointed out that parking difficulties have increased with the opening of a new motion picture theatre.

"We are glad to have the motion picture theatre here," a representative of council said, "but some provision will have to be made for the parking of automobiles."

Robert Frick, president of the Progressive Real Estate Co., voiced the complaints of the businessmen regarding the traffic congestion, and said much of the trouble was due to the town's main street, route 309, which carries a heavy load of traffic.

Lack of traffic lights has made route 309 a speedway, several members of council said. Borough officials have tried to gain permission from the State Highway Department to install traffic lights, especially at the intersection of Main street and Temple avenue, but the department contends that there is not enough traffic on Temple avenue to warrant a light there.

This is the only right angle intersection in that part of the borough. It was brought out, all other streets coming to a dead end at Main street. The borough has but one traffic light, in the southern part of town. The street committee reported on several minor repairs made, and Robert Brown, recently appointed building inspector, reported granting permits for four dwellings and a private garage during the past month.

RECIPES

Filled Green Peppers

4 ounces elbow macaroni
4 medium green peppers
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons enriched flour
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1½ teaspoons prepared mustard

1½ cups milk
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1 cup grated American cheese
Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender (about 8 minutes). Drain and rinse. While macaroni is cooking, slice tops from peppers. Remove seeds, wash and parboil in salted water 5 minutes. Melt butter or margarine in top of double boiler. Stir in flour, salt, pepper and mustard. Gradually add milk, stirring constantly until thickened. Add pimiento, cheese and macaroni. Fill peppers with macaroni mixture. Set in shallow pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

EXPERTS PREDICT FAIR FRUIT CROPS IN BUCKS

State College Professors Cite Use of Sprays For Results

INSECTS ARE CHECKED

DOYLESTOWN, June 15 — Experts on insect control and plant diseases told members of the Bucks County Fruit Growers last week that "Bucks county orchards are in better shape this spring than they have been in some time," and predicted fair crops of apples and peaches if nothing unforeseen happens.

Dr. Henry Menusan, extension entomologist at Pennsylvania State College, added that "Better sprays, continued use of sprays and new and better control methods which you fruit growers have been practicing is bringing about results. It is not believed that the wet weather increased the insects, but rather retarded them," he said. Dr. O. D. Burke, State College pathologist, who also spoke to the 27 persons at the dinner meeting, said that although scab is prevalent it is under favorable control. He pointed out that the continual use of sprays has done much to bring the scab under control.

President Elbert W. Haldeman

presided and announced that a picnic will be held at the orchards of E. R. Glenn, Fairhill, on Saturday, July 29.

The two State College professors also answered questions and explained applications and results of sprays and various mixtures.

MANILA. —(INS) — The Philippine Central Bank has disclosed that the United States, Japan and Germany, in that order, were the largest purchasers of Philippine goods in 1949. The United States exported $183 million worth of goods to the Philippines and imported $421 million worth of commodities. Japan, in second place, chalked up a post war record of $11 million in exports and $10 million in imports. Germany ranked third with $7 million in exports. Imports, however, were negligible.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled in just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get PASTEETH at any drug store. (Advertisement)

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY PARADE

By Max Factor, Jr.

(Famous Make-up Advisor to the Screen Stars Now Writing for INS)
HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — When women discuss the subject of "having personality," their observations are nearly always based on the premise that all "personality" is admirable and a sure furtherer of glamour and appeal.

This premise isn't a completely sound one. After all, that famous and lovely duchess of some centuries ago, Lucrezia Borgia, beyond doubt possessed a great deal of "personality," and frequently gave expression to it by poisoning someone. So, be aware that not just any sort of "personality" adds to your glamour. Make sure that yours is at least likable.

Many women seek to radically change their personalities to fit the changing scenes in which they appear or the various costumes they wear. This is alright if you are naturally a talented enough actress to star in many widely different roles in a convincing fashion. But don't try this if there's a chance your performance will be amateurish. Developing and perfecting one personality type is generally a much sounder procedure than seeking to be a girl-wonder who has six or seven highly contrasting and perhaps conflicting personality effects to present.

However, don't automatically assume that the basic personality type you now have must be the one which you can develop to the greatest heights of glamour advantage. In probably nine cases out of ten this naturally acquired personality will be the best one to work on and seek to improve. But there's always that tenth case to worry about. Remember Lucrezia Borgia; maybe she would have turned out to be a nice, non-poisoning girl if she had read a column such as this one early enough in life, and had straightway taken steps to remodel her personality a bit. Now and then there's need for age-limitations to be imposed on personalities. Most particularly, a sweet-young-teen-age thing type of personality expression doesn't further glamour when it is insistently and ridiculously carried on into the years of mature womanhood—especially if baby-talk is involved.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions. If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today! GEORGE SCHOOL NETMEN TO MEET TENNIS RIVALS

NEWTOWN, June 15—Idle for two weeks, the George School Community Tennis Club team swings into action in a big way this weekend, with matches scheduled for 2.00 p. m. on both Saturday and Sunday against the top two teams in the Philadelphia "B" league, Rifle Club on June 17 and Cynwyd Club June 18th.

Local tennis fans were invited to watch the team matches, which will bring to the George School courts for the first time the home forces which are captained by Rus Cloak, Parkland veteran.

In three previous matches, the George School C.T.C. netmen beat University Courts 6-3 and West Chester 5-4, and lost to Idle Hour T. C. 4-5, all away from home. Cynwyld stands at the head of the league to date, Rifle Club is second and the locals are in the third spot. Competitors in league matches thus far include Cloak, and Les Birks and Ed Meara, 3rd, of Trenton, Dick Brown, of Yardley; Bob Biddle, 3rd, Bob Hoffman and Bill Dwyer, of Newtown; Frank Blank and Johnny McGrath, of Langhorne, Jim Seegers and Paul Blanchard, Jr., of George School, and Bill Berlinghof, now of Bryn Athyn.
